NLSY79 Child Assessment Research

A Bibliography

The NLSY79. The National Longitudinal Survey of Youth (NLSY79) is a multipurpose survey of more than 12,600 individuals in the U.S. who have been interviewed annually since 1979 when they were 14 to 21 years of age. Sponsored by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), the NLSY79 contains extensive information about the employment, education, training, and family experiences of the respondents. Since 1982, through support of the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), questions have been asked about pregnancy and postnatal histories, fertility, and child care. The Center for Human Resource Research (CHRR) at The Ohio State University and NORC at the University of Chicago are responsible for the design, collection, and dissemination of the NLSY79.

Children of the NLSY79. Starting in 1986, and every two years thereafter, the children of the NLSY79 mothers have been assessed to measure their cognitive ability, temperament, motor and social development, behavior problems, perceived competence, and the quality of their home environment. This assessment information, combined with data from the mothers' records, forms a detailed data file for users interested in exploring the interrelationships between family and environmental factors, maternal behavior and child development.

Bibliographies. The Child Assessment Research bibliography, updated periodically, cites work that has utilized the NLSY79 child assessment information. Entries in this listing are grouped, regardless of publication status, into the topics listed in the Table of Contents. Papers and publications using more than one assessment are cited multiple times within the document. Readers should note that Body Parts and Memory for Locations were administered only in 1986 and 1988, and the McCarthy Verbal Memory subscale was discontinued after 1996.

A comprehensive listing of all studies using the NLSY79 Mother and Child data is available from CHRR in a bibliography entitled Research Using NLSY79 Data on Fertility, Child Care, and Child Development. This bibliography is available on-line at:

An annotated bibliography of research for all the NLS cohorts is available on-line at:

CHRR welcomes suggestions about the development of materials that users would find useful. Additions or revisions to this bibliography should be sent to: childbib@postoffice.chrr.ohio-state.edu.

NLS Information. CHRR distributes a number of print and on-line documentation materials on the NLS surveys. Details on the Child surveys can be found in the current NLSY79 Child Data Users Guide, on the BLS website: www.bls.gov/nlsy79ch.htm, and on the CHRR site: www.chrr.ohio-state.edu/nlsy79-childya.html.
